

Relocation Services in the Triangle Area

You're in Control When You Know the Facts Buying a home in a new area can be a risky business. When you're new to an area, it's a good idea to work with someone who knows the area and who will give you an objective opinion rather than a sales pitch. It's important to work with someone who will:

- Point out problems ("There is a new major highway planned nearby.")
- Ask questions ("Will this airport noise bother you?")
- Negotiate the best price possible ("This is our final offer").

We're FOR HomeBUYERS, Inc. We represent only you, the buyer - never the seller.

What Makes Our Service Different? We're different from the majority of other real estate companies because, while the others may say they will represent only you, their loyalties may actually be divided between you and the sellers they represent. This means you only have 50 percent of a company's loyalty; FOR HomeBUYERS, Inc. guarantees you 100 % loyalty from start to finish.

It won't cost you a dime extra to use our service. We make our money from the transaction in the same manner that homes sales have always been handled. The exception in our case it that one agent is being paid to represent only you instead of two agents who are paid to work for the seller.

Your confidentiality is maintained regarding such things as how much you're willing to spend, whether you are a corporate transferee, how much your company is paying in closing costs, and many other pertinent information. The confidentiality of this information ensures that negotiations will not be compromised.

Here is what one of FOR HomeBUYERS ' clients said about his move:

"We decided to move here from Louisiana so that I could attend NC State University. Our agent was everything we needed in an agent: friendly, bright, energetic, supportive, and honest. And most importantly our agent showed a genuine concern for us and for finding us just the right home. Moving can be a nightmare, but FOR HomeBUYERS helped work out all the details to ensure a smooth transition into our new home." --R.D. Odell

Let's Get Started FOR HomeBUYERS, Inc. protects buyers like you. Our goal is to make your move as easy as possible and to assist you as much as we can with honest advice and an objective opinion.
